

Three Hundred Collins Unveils Sales Gallery.

JMH Development, the New York based leading developer of Three Hundred Collins, hosted a private outdoor dinner and cocktail soiree to unveil the luxury residential development's modernist-style sales gallery, situated in the heart of Miami Beach's exclusive South of Fifth neighborhood.

This unveiling comes on the heels of the boutique project's 50 percent sold announcement, a milestone accomplished after only recently launching sales in March. Jason Halpern, founder and managing partner of JMH Development, welcomed 50 of Miami's most elite brokers and real estate executives to the sleek sales gallery, where they mingled over signature cocktails and afterward enjoyed an intimate outdoor dinner overlooking lush "SoFi" cityscapes.

Notable guests included Laura Garcia, executive vice president of JMH Development as well as Daniel de la Vega, president of ONE Sotheby's International Realty (ONESIR), the exclusive sales and marketing team for the project, Harvey Daniels, vice president of development sales for ONESIR, and Dina Goldentayer and Sladja Stantic, co-directors of sales for Three Hundred Collins.

"Our unveiling event captured the energy of the project – an intimate, sophisticated evening to match the cool and contemporary retreat that is Three Hundred Collins," said Jason Halpern. "We were delighted to present our sales gallery for the first time to such a prestigious crowd, and we have no doubt that the space will attract countless visitors in months to come."

The sales gallery was illuminated with chic amber lighting for the urbane occasion, accompanied by the saxophone sounds of Jorge Gomez. Throughout the evening, guests admired an interactive 3-D scale model of Three Hundred Collins, surrounded by a selection of sumptuous materials that will be featured at the property upon its completion in 2017.

"Three Hundred Collins was envisioned as a timeless escape, something we successfully emulated through our refined sales gallery," said Dina Goldentayer. "Visitors will be able to immerse themselves in the essence of the project, which will enrich the South of Fifth neighborhood upon its delivery."

Three Hundred Collins is the first Miami-based project by Thomas Juul-Hansen, known as New York City's designer for the one percent. A conceptualization of acclaimed mixed talent, the five-story, 19-unit boutique building offers one-to-four bedroom residences from 995 to over 3,700 square feet. The remaining units range in price tags from $1.7 million to over $9 million.
